Hospital Expansion Drive Progressing On 2 Fronts; Building Fund Is Created

The first phase of the new building program of the Annie M. Warner Hospital of Adams County is moving forward on two fronts in a determined effort to relieve at the earliest possible date the crowded conditions prevailing in the wards in the X-ray department and dispensary.

The new building committee has instructed a firm of architects and engineers to begin studies and prepare preliminary floor plans of a new structure, the building of which can be developed in two stages.

At the same time the hospital finance committee announced that a new building fund has been created so that contributions to make possible the urgently needed facilities can be accepted. These funds are earmarked for new construction and it was stated that more than 30 contributions have been made to this fund during the several years that the fund has been operative.

Essential To Expand

In describing the need for a new building, the directors of the hospital at their November meeting authorized the following statement:

"The original hospital building, erected in 1919, is overcrowded and is obsolete as a patient facility. Sun porches have been absorbed in order to create ward accommodations. There are inadequate toilet and bath facilities. The X-ray department and dispensary have outgrown their respective areas and there is no room for necessary expansion, to meet the needs of these services."

"A new building to which all patients now housed in the old building can be transferred and the refitting of the old building for adequate out-patient services is essential. We have no choice in the matter and there is no alternative."

"Our program calls for a new building to be constructed in two phases. The first, to enable transfer of 32 ward patients into eight four-bed wards, each with bath, and to adapt the vacated space in the old building to needed additional X-ray and dispensary facilities."

New Private Rooms

"The second phase of the program will transfer the private room patients in the old building to the new building and permit final refitting of the old building for complete out-patient and administrative areas."

"It is estimated the whole project will cost $500,000 but the first phase can be undertaken when $200,000 is at hand. However, regardless of the urgency of the need, construction cannot be undertaken until the money is on hand."

"It is our hope that $200,000 can be raised in order that the first phase can be started sometime in 1955 and the final part within the next five years."

Ask Earnest Consideration

In announcing the operation of the new building fund, the finance committee asks contributors to consider the matter in this way:

"If by some circumstances, this $500,000 project had to be undertaken immediately, you would subscribe what you consider to be your reasonable share of the cost. This might be based on the number of your employees and their dependents; your ability to contribute; your standing in the community or by any other measure. The

MAN HURT IN $1,300 CRASH

A car driven by John Codori Jr., 405 York St., was knocked over on its side Sunday afternoon when Roy E. College, Upper Darby, smashed into it, after apparently driving through a red light. Borough police are filing charges against College with Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore.

The only reported injuries were suffered by Joseph Robinson, 65 W. High St., who was a passenger in the Codori car, along with his brother, Bernard. Robinson was treated for a bruised hip and strained neck muscles by Dr. D. C. Stoner, and was taken to Warner Hospital, where an X-ray of the hip revealed no fracture.

The collision occurred at 1:05 p.m., at the intersection of S. Washington and W. Middle Sts. Codori, driving north on Washington St., had started across the intersection, when College, heading east on Middle St., crashed into the left rear fender of Codori's car. College was reported to have stated that he had not seen the traffic light.

Damage was estimated at $1,000 to the Codori car, mainly to the right side, top, and left rear fender and door, and at $300 to the grill, radiator and frame of Codori's car.

Mother And 3 Children Are Slain With Hatchet After Singing Carols

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Harold R. Oilar's wife and three children sang Christmas carols and went to bed. A few hours later, said police, Oilar killed them — with a Boy Scout hatchet.

Police and a neighbor early yesterday found the 39-year-old rug merchant unconscious from gas fumes, in an apparent suicide attempt, in a bathroom of his $25,000 home.

He was booked on suspicion of murder in the prison ward at the County General Hospital, where attendants said he is expected to survive. Detectives said that during questioning he muttered: "It can't be real. I've had a bad dream."

A neighbor's child who spent the night with the Oilar was spared. So was their cocker spaniel, found playing near the family swimming pool.

Police Lt. Wayne Bornhoff said Oilar apparently carried sleeping Brownyn Rayburn, 7, from the room where she was staying with his daughters Janet, 10, and Mar-

VFW UNIT GIVES KIDDIES PARTY

Eight members of the firing squad of VFW Post 15 of Gettysburg represented the squad at the annual Christmas party held Friday evening for the youngsters in Cottage 12 at Scotland School.

Started last year, the program is an annual event of the squad and provides a special treat for the eight girls in the cottage and their house mother, Mrs. Rae Dollison. Members of the firing squad to visit the cottage for the party included Post Commander Francis Wisotzky, Past Commander Bernard Murray, Richard Sites, William Gallagher, Dale Smith, Melvin Burton, Curt Lamson and Raymond Strohm. Commander Wisotzky introduced the members of the squad to the youngsters and then distributed gifts to the house mother and children. In addition to a personal gift to each youngster, writing paper, candy and a corsage was given to each.

The eight girls, Judith Blakely, Diane Delaney, Sally Enslinger, Peggy Hoover, Sharon Malone, Judith Miller, Patricia Enslinger and Patricia Godshall, sang Christmas songs and were accompanied at the piano by Sharon Malone. Peggy Hoover played a clarinet solo and Diane Delaney presented several piano selections.

Dr. Willard Stevens, superintendent of Scotland School, congratulated the firing squad for their "efforts in making Christmas more enjoyable for the children at Scotland School."

TWO EULOGIES IN COURT TODAY

The late Attorney Raymond F. Topper was eulogized as a man whose "personal and professional character was unimpeachable" in Adams County Court this morning.

Attorney Donald G. Oyler read the report on the death of Attorney Topper prepared by Attorney Charles W. Wolf at the opening of the court session today, officially notifying the court of the death of the oldest member of the county bar. At the conclusion of the reading, the court directed that the eulogy be made a part of the official minutes and also directed that a eulogy of George D. "Tessie" Slonaker, tipstaff of the court, who died recently, be entered in the record noting Mr. Slonaker's long and faithful service to the court.

In the remarks concerning Attorney Topper it was noted that "an ardent Republican," he had served as district attorney from 1915 to

Knights Of Road No Longer Supplied Overnight Lodging At County Home Here

Homeless residents of Adams County probably have never found more attention given to their needs at the county home than since the formation of the County Home Auxiliary several years ago but now those who seek a night's lodging there have to be turned away.

They are refused overnight lodging because there is no place to accommodate them at the county home, Steward Herbert Taylor explained.

The little building across the Harrisburg road from the county home buildings no longer offers shelter. The east end of the weatherboard, one-story structure has been torn out. There are now windows remaining and much of the flooring has been ripped out to furnish firewood—in spite of the fact that supplies of firewood are available across the highway.

Word Spreads Fast

The building was used in the summer time but during the fall and winter "knights of the road" have been refused overnight lodging and Taylor is worried about one result. Some of them have "sneaked into" the barn at the county home and have slept there after receiving food at the home.

"The word gets around fast among the fellows that make the circuit from one county home to another," Mr. Taylor said. "There aren't many more that stop here. Maybe one a week. Last week there was a fellow that hadn't been through here since just after World War I and he stopped to ask for a place to sleep but we had to turn the old fellow down."

The county commissioners, who manage the county home and farm, are discouraged about the results of their efforts to provide overnight lodging for transients. A year or two ago the commissioners put a stove in the little "flop house" across the road. "It wasn't two weeks until the heater had been broken and the stove pipe torn down and smashed flat on the floor. They won't come across the road for wood. They'd rather tear the building apart," Mr. Taylor said.

Bugs And Larceny

The commissioners have discussed at various times the possibility of erecting a concrete block building that could not be easily damaged.

A steward some years ago tried an experiment of letting overnight lodgers sleep in the basement of the main buildings at the home. The plan had to be dropped.

"The lodgers find ways to get up into the main building and they steal clothing, food and everything they can get their hands on. And another thing," said Mr. Taylor, "a lot of those fellows have bugs and there's just no way to keep the bugs and lice in the basement. The overnight lodgers must have separate quarters if we're going to accommodate them."

In addition to worrying about the danger of fire in the county home barn, Mr. Taylor would like to see the transients taken care of for another reason:

"After all, they're human beings, too," he said.

There's more fresh air than shelter in this little building across the Harrisburg Rd. from the county home that for years has provided overnight quarters for transients seeking lodging at the county home. Transients now are refused lodging for lack of quarters.

Here And There News Collected At Random

Don't let your holiday go up in smoke.

The Christmas tree, filled with natural pitch and resin, is one of the most combustible objects known. Ignited, it burns so rapidly it is virtually impossible to extinguish the flame by methods ordinarily available.

To help prevent home fires caused by Christmas trees, here are 14 simple precautions:

Buy a fresh tree. Be wary of trees sold as "firproof." And don't attempt to flameproof Christmas trees with chemical solutions.

Keep your tree in a cold place — an unheated garage is fine — until ready to set it up. And do not set it up until you are ready to use it.

Before setting up the tree, saw off diagonally at least an inch of trunk, and place base in a water-containing holder. Keep water reservoir filled.

Locate your tree well away from fireplaces, radiators, television sets, powerful electric lights and other source of heat.

Never use candles for decorations. Use only electric lights, and be sure these bear the Underwriter's Laboratories label.

Urges Women To Exhibit At Show

Miss Florence Finger, home extension economist for Adams County, today urged county women and those in the 4-H age group to "be an exhibitor of clothing in the 1955 Farm Show at Harrisburg."

The Farm Show will be held from January 10 to 14 and any woman in the state can enter the open class division, Miss Finger said. The exhibits, which will be judged Sunday, January 9, must be sent to the Farm Show before 6 p.m. January 8. 4-H members may enter in the 4-H competition only, articles made in the club of which she is a member. And the entrants must have passed their tenth birthday but may not have reached her 21st birthday before the opening day of the show. 4-H garments for entry in the show must be sent to the Agricultural Extension office at the Court House here before Friday, January 7, and Miss Finger will take the entries to Harrisburg with her. Women interested in entering garments in the Farm Show are asked to contact Miss Finger at the Court House for further information concerning entries.

NCCW DONATES FOOD TO SCHOOL

Mrs. Virgie Hall reported to the St. Ignatius Parish Council of Catholic Women that the members had donated 399 bushels of peaches and 312 bushels of apples to the Paradise School. The report was given at the regular monthly meeting of the group, held recently at Mrs. Hall's home in Buchanan Valley. It was also reported that the clothing for the War Relief had been packed and shipped.

It was announced that the next quarterly deaconry meeting will be held as a dinner, January 13 at 7 p.m., in St. Francis Xavier Hall. The annual Day of Recollection will be held at St. Joseph's Academy, McSherrystown, next spring. The next monthly meeting of the group will be held January 20 at the home of Mrs. Oliver Pfeiffer, Buchanan Valley.

Mrs. Catherine E. Miller, president of the group, presided, and the opening prayer was given by Rev. Fr. Louis J. Yeager, pastor of St. Ignatius Church. Reports were given by the secretary, Miss Betty Hall, and the treasurer, Mrs. Lillian Dillon. The business meeting closed with a recitation of the Rosary, followed by a Christmas party. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served.

John A. Mauss Is Interred Today

Funeral services for John A. Mauss, 69, Biglerville R. 1, who died Saturday morning at his home in Butler Twp. after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage last Wednesday, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Dugan Funeral Home in Biglerville. Dr. Henry Sternat, Biglerville Lutheran pastor, officiated. Interment was made in the Bender's Lutheran Church Cemetery. The pallbearers were Howard Hensley, Melvin Cool, Elson Gulse, Wilbert Wisler, Mervin Harman and Melvin Miller.

TECHNICALITY FREES SPEEDER IN COURT TODAY

The "calm mood" in which Jac C. Ritter, Mechanicsburg driver, greeted state policemen when they finally caught up with him after a half mile race in Germany and Mt. Joy Twp. was fully justified this morning. The speeding charge against Ritter was dismissed because the officers placed the charge before the nearest justice of the peace instead of before the nearest magistrate in an adjoining township.

State Policeman George Akerson explained in the court that police never would have caught Ritter if he hadn't stopped. Akerson and another officer gave chase when Ritter passed them at a high speed. The state policeman explained "it was Ford against Ford and we could not gain on him." According to Akerson the two cars were averaging a "good 85" miles per hour at times. Both Ritter and the police passed two other cars along the road. Then finally Ritter pulled off the side of the road and stopped. The policeman found him "calmly" looking at a road map.

They brought a speeding charge before Justice of the Peace F. Loy Lindaman in Littlestown.

Gets Suspended Sentence

But, as was pointed out by Robert Horter, Dauphin County attorney who pleaded Ritter's case, Mt. Pleasant Twp. adjoins Mount Joy township in which the chase took place and so the case should have been brought before the Mt. Pleasant justice of the peace, at Bonneauville. With the law specific about the matter, the court had no alternative but to dismiss the case and put the costs on the county. Mt. Joy does not have a justice of the peace.

Merle W. Wilson, New Oxford R. 2, was given a suspended sentence but was ordered to pay $100 fine and the costs on a charge of carrying a pistol without a license. He said he used the pistol to shoot mark and rodents, and that he had forgotten about the pistol and left it lying in his car where it was found by state police.

William J. Gillan, Chambersburg undertaker, was ordered placed in custody until he pays up all the arrearage on his support order and posts a $1,000 bond with surety to guarantee continued payment.

Gillan said it "kept him scratch-

Russia, Irked By Defense Plans Of Allies, Threatens To Break Pact With Britain

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia today threatened to scrap the British-Soviet Mutual Assistance Treaty if the Paris agreements to rearm West Germany are ratified.

This warning was in a note handed to British Ambassador Sir William Hayter by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko at the Foreign Ministry.

The text of the note was not immediately available but it was understood to be similar to a note given France last Thursday threatening abrogation of the French-Soviet treaty.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry called a news conference for this evening and it was believed the text of the note would be made public then.

Ambassador Hayter returned to his post here on Saturday after several weeks in Paris and London for consultations.

British Expect Notice

After last week's Soviet warning to France that the Kremlin planned to scrap the French-Soviet treaty if the Paris agreements were ratified, there was a question in Western diplomatic circles in Moscow about when the British would get their notice.

Some diplomats observed the Russians should be consistent and denounce their pact with Britain also—especially in view of the fact that the British House of Commons had already approved the rearming of West Germany.

This was made even more emphatic in Moscow after French contribution that you determine may be in excess of your allowable deductions for such purposes in any one year. On the other hand, by dividing the project into two parts, as the Board has done, and having the sum on hand that we already have, you could make your contribution over a period of years, each year of which would be within your deductible allowance.

"We earnestly ask you to give this matter consideration, and if the procedure suggested seems logical and you agree that it is the community's responsibility to itself to provide adequate hospital facilities, and that your own position in the community and your desires in the matter make logical your participation, your contribution for 1954 will be most welcome, most helpful and will be appreciated."

First Appeals Since 1918

This is the first appeal the hospital has made for building funds since the original campaign in 1918-19 when the hospital was constructed. The Musselman Annex, which was added to the hospital in the early 1940's, was the gift of the late C. H. Musselman, Mrs. Musselman and the Musselman Foundation.

Though the original hospital building is obsolete and crowded as a patient facility, the medical and nursing service of the hospital are not impaired. However, the ever-increasing use of the hospital, which reflects increase in population of the county, makes necessary the completion of the entire project within five years.

In dividing the construction program into two parts and expressing willingness to commence the first phase as soon as $200,000 is available, the directors stated that the urgent need for new ward facilities and addition x-ray and dispensary areas need not be held up until the entire sum is raised.

ting" to pay a $15 per week support order in Franklin County for the support of two children by a divorced wife, and thus had been unable to pay his order to support his wife in Adams County. Probation Officer Delroy M. Anderson told the court that Gallan ignored letters sent by him and failed to pay anything on the order handed down in October, until he was arrested on a process and placed in the county jail. Gallan then paid $100 plus the costs on December 8 and at present is $125 in arrears. Observing that "it doesn't appear to the court that you are trying too hard to pay," Judge W. C. Sheely then placed the undertaker in the sheriff's custody until he paid up and posted bond.

The support order of Kenton C. Denisar, Aspers R. 1, was changed to a flat payment of $17 per week instead of "half his earnings." The probation officer said Denisar had been paying promptly, and had now secured regular employment. The $17 per week was a little less than half of the approximately $37 per week, the Aspers R. 1 man is earning.

A hearing was begun on the charge of driving too fast for conditions brought by New Oxford Chief of Police Walter Bemiller against Mary J. Koonz, New Oxford R. 1. The hearing was continued to this afternoon.

Exceptions were filed by Attorney Donald G. Oyler, guardian ad litem appointed by the court for the children of the late John Raoul Gaston, to the report of the court appointed auditor, Attorney Donald M. Swope. Attorney Swope listed the assets of Gaston's estate at $2,614.71, and allowed a claim of $2,283.41 brought by the federal government for tax deficiencies of 1949, 1951 and 1952 plus income tax over the period from January 1, 1953, to the time of death, plus interest. The cost of the audit was $283, according to the auditor and the cost plus the allowance of the federal claim would take all of the assets.

The children were given their Christmas treats on Sunday morning.

Following the Christmas program, the Youth Fellowship took the Junior Choir members caroling. The group went over the main streets of the community and then returned to the church social hall where refreshments were served by the young people of the Fellowship.

WALLY MOON IS ROOKIE OF YEAR

NEW YORK (AP)—Wally Moon, the kid who filled a man's job for the St. Louis Cardinals, is the National League Rookie of the Year.

The 24-year-old outfielder was put on the spot from the start by the Cards, who two days before the season opened decided the time had come to replace their longtime right fielder, Enos Slaughter. Moon was the lad they picked to take over.

He rose to the occasion from the start, slamming a home run as leadoff man in the opening game. He kept up that kind of performance all season, finishing with 293 hits, scoring 106 runs and batting a respectable .304.

He collected 17 of 24 first-place votes in the balloting by the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America. The other seven votes were distributed among three other yearlings with Ernie Banks, Chicago Cubs' shortstop, the runner-up with four of them.

Two Milwaukee first-year men, pitcher Gene Conley and outfielder Hank Aaron, finished three, four,

SIX MASSES ON CHRISTMAS DAY FOR CATHOLICS

The Rev. Fr. Edward J. Shanahan, pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, has announced that there will be six masses in St. Aloysius Church on Christmas Day, beginning with the traditional Midnight Mass. Every priest is privileged to celebrate three masses on Christmas and there will be a Passionist Missionary priest in the parish to assist Father Shanahan. The five masses on Christmas morning will be held continuously, beginning at 7:30 a.m. The pastor explained that the proper of the Christmas masses are short, and the masses will therefore last approximately 20 minutes, which would have the sixth and final mass of the day beginning about 9 a.m.

Masses on Tuesday and Wednesday will be at 7:15 a.m., and on Thursday and Friday at 8 a.m. The intention of the mass on Tuesday, the Feast of St. Thomas, will be for the spiritual and temporal welfare of the members of the congregation. Confessions will be heard on Friday in preparation for Christmas by two priests. The time will be from 12:15 to 12:30 p.m.; from 3 to 5 and 7 to 8:30 p.m., or until all are heard. Confessions will also be heard briefly at 11:30 p.m., and if there is someone who has no other opportunity to go; and during some of the morning masses.

Vacation Wednesday
Students of the parochial school will begin their Christmas holiday vacation on Wednesday. There will be a program and a treat for the children of the school, beginning at 10 a.m. that day.

A pastoral letter was read from the Most Rev. George L. Leech, Bishop of Harrisburg, at the morning masses on Sunday, announcing plans for the observance of a day of prayer in all churches for members of the churches which have been silenced and for the suffering peoples of other countries. The day of prayer will be next Sunday. It is suggested that there be a general communion of all the faithful; Solemn Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament throughout the day so that the individuals may visit their Lord on the altar, at all hours. These united prayers are planned to help realize here the sacrifices and sufferings of others and to hasten the day when they too may be free.

Students believe that any person who lives long enough will have catracts on his eyes, says the Better Vision Institute.

Today's Talk
SUPPER ON THE FARM
For more years than I like to say I have lived in our two biggest cities—in fact ever since I came out of college and went to Chicago to become a merchant prince, or some such an individual. New York is now my home, but I so often long for the "little town" where you knew everyone. It isn't home in the great city. It's a place where you work, are shoved by crowds, and are entertained by an everlasting noise and growl.

I stood at the window in my city office of a recent evening, looking out from my 28th floor window, and viewed an area of lights truly magnificent and magical—with thousands of hurrying people below yelling for cabs, and crowds in black masses moving to eating places all over this town. But I got nostalgic. I wished it could be possible to be immediately transported to some open place where I could again have one of those delightful suppers upon the farm!

Everything was so God-genuine on the farm where I once worked. The old farmer during my early days, at least, was a "man of parts," and I never got lonely nor did I have any urges to become a "merchant prince" while working there. There were hardships and things missing that nearly all farms have today, but there was a spirit and an honesty about the place that gave you cheer and hope, the same as did the smell of the soil and the flavor of those good meals, morning, noon and night.

Never can enough credit go to our farmers. They toil early and late. They are intelligent and good citizens. Now with the radio and television, and the widespread telephone system, and the best automobiles made in all the world, the hardships of the farms have been greatly eliminated. Still a great deal of gambling is ever with the farmer, for he has no control over the weather. He can neither turn on the rain nor turn it off as is needed. But supper on the farm remains an everlasting institution.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Nature and One's Library."

Public Schools: The examination of the public schools of the borough were held this week. The schools will be closed during the holidays and will resume on Monday, January 5, next.

Christmas: The date of this week's issue is that which the great majority of the Christian world observes in honor of the nativity of the Saviour of the world. Not that Christ was born on the 25th of December, for it is generally conceded that the date does not meet the demands of the inspired narrative. During the second and third centuries the festival was observed by different churches in almost every month of the year. In the fourth century, however, the 25th of December was fixed by Papal decree and since then that date has been generally recognized by the Christian church. Accordingly today it will be observed throughout Christendom with good cheer, rejoicing and religious services.

To many the day is still made a time of saturnalian observance, and to others it is not a church holiday, but simply a domestic festival, but still the dear Christian traditions unfold and interpenetrate all.

Ex-Sheriff Spangler has purchased from John Hartman the property on the north-west corner of the public square for $6,000 cash.

On Thursday evening last the scholars of the "Ladies School" of Gettysburg, bringing with them presents, fruits and cakes and candles, gathered in the school room and spread a table most bountifully. After all things were perfectly arranged, they spent one of their number to invite the teachers. The surprise was complete. Handsome gifts were presented the teachers in a very neat manner.

And with the good things of the table, the social games and the joyous mood of all, the evening passed delightfully.

Local Items: The recent Catholic Fair in Buchanan Valley netted about $500.

S. R. Tipton is building a two story dwelling house at the east end of Middle St., this place.

Small plants of the ever-blooming bedding begonia, begonia semperflorens, that were transferred from the garden to small pots before frost will have completely recuperated from the ordeal. If they have a sunny window position they will again be flowering nicely unless kept too warm. Give the pots a quarter turn once a week to encourage a well-rounded growth. Water only when the topsoil verges on dryness. In the right position they will continue to flower right through the winter months.

SANTA AND THE MARS KING
By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

CHAPTER 15
THE KING OF MARS
Tom and the Mars King started down the mountain. Suddenly Tom halted.

"I hear a strange sound—like men crying!"

They looked all about but could see nothing. They continued on their way. The moaning grew louder.

"It's the mountain!" cried Tom. The King threw himself to the ground and tried to listen. But the space helmet he wore kept him from putting his ear to the ground.

"Take it off!" urged Tom.

"I dare not. It's the first time I ever felt like a king. If I take it off I shall be weak and not able to act like a king."

Tom laid down and pressed his ear to the golden mountain. "It is true. The mountain itself is crying!"

"No, no," said Majesty. "It is the crying of the kings. They are shut up in the mountain!"

They searched for an opening to the mountain. At last, on the side facing away from the palaces, they came to a pile of golden rocks. Here the moaning was loudest of all.

Tom and the King hurried away the rocks.

They uncovered a hole large enough to crawl through.

"Come out! Come out!" cried Majesty.

The moaning stopped. There was a long wait and then, one by one, the kings of Mars crawled out. They did not look like kings—certainly not like kings of a golden planet. Majesty talked with them and told them who he was. They remembered him well. They groped their way to him and told him the sad tale of what had happened to them since he left.

They spoke in their Mars language. Tom was glad he had come to understand it almost as well as his own.

The children of Mars had grown angry, said the Kings, because the intervention of the flying saucers did not bring more light to the planet. They had grown tired, too, of spinning the kings off into space as flying saucers. So the children had imprisoned them all in the mountain and there it seemed likely they would remain forever.

"And you, too!" they cried. "Ah, you should never have come back!"

"Be of good cheer," said Majesty. "I have a friend named Santa Claus. He will save us all."

Then he told of his flight to the Earth planet and his visit to Santa Land. Of the wonderful spectacles Santa had given him so that he could see as well as ever. And of the space suit he wore which made him feel strong and brave and kindly.

"Now," he finished, "all we have to do is get the flying saucers out of the sky and then Santa Claus will bring us all spectacles and space suits and we shall all be happy as kings."

The Mars kings marveled to hear this strange news. They went back to their mountain and sought for a way to recall the flying saucers.

"If we invented the machine to send our kings whirling through space, surely we can invent one that will bring them home again," said Majesty.

And he was right. In a very short time the kings had planned a fabulous affair. It was a huge vacuum cleaner that could suck particles from the air—even particles as large as flying saucers and as far away as the Earth.

Tom and Majesty set about getting the materials and the kings labored to put it together. At last it was ready. But as they prepared to take it out of the mountain there was a sudden clamor from without.

"The children!" quavered the tired old kings. "The children are coming!"

On this, the 25th Anniversary of the Blue Cross idea, more than 46 million Americans have cause to celebrate.

These are the people who, through their Blue Cross membership, today enjoy the best protection in the world against hospital expenses, at the lowest cost.

Blue Cross had its beginning back in 1929, when a small group of Dallas school teachers, with the cooperation of Baylor University Hospital, experimented with a plan for prepaying hospital costs. The idea proved to be effective and grew, through the years, into a national institution. Why? Because the purpose of Blue Cross was one of public service... born of a sincere desire to provide people with the hospital care they need. Blue Cross was and remains non-profit and community-sponsored. It is the pioneer of prepaid hospital care plans and is the only plan officially approved by the American Hospital Association.

2 HINTED FOR CABINET JOBS
HARRISBURG (AP)—Two new names today were in the long list of possible candidates for cabinet positions in the incoming administration of Gov.-elect George M. Leader.

But the York County Democrat who will take over the state's highest post Jan. 18 gave a terse "no comment" in answer to newsmen's queries on top-job speculation.

Hard on the heels of Leader's appointment on Friday of Dr. William L. Henning as agriculture secretary, Democratic circles began buzzing with mention of Alvin Guyler and Dr. Clarence E. Ackley.

Undisclosed sources said Guyler was being considered for appointment as welfare secretary and Dr. Ackley as superintendent of public instruction.

"I have no comment to make," Leader told a newsmen when asked about the report.

"Anyway, the public instruction appointment won't be made until sometime after Dr. (Francis B.) Haas' term expires in August," Leader added.

Both posts carry annual salaries of $15,000.

Guyler is Pittsburgh's regional director of the Veterans' Administration and has had a long career in social welfare work. He is 53 years old.

Dr. Ackley, of Camp Hill, was deputy superintendent of public instruction from 1938 to 1943. Neither man was available for comment.

PARIS (AP)—The government says the fate of 20,861 French Union troops who fought in the Indochinese War has not been determined definitely. Some are believed still held as prisoners of the Communist-led Vietminh, in defiance of the Geneva armistice terms.

The figure was announced on Friday to the National Assembly by Jacques Chevallier, secretary of state for war. Some of the soldiers, he said, may have been deserters; many probably were killed in battle and their deaths not registered. Others may have died in prison camps.

The secretary said France has returned 59,700 internees and 8,000 war prisoners to the Vietminh. In return, the French got back 19,181 prisoners, including 710 civilians.

23 ESCAPE IN PLANE CRASH
BRAMPTON, Ont. (AP)—All 23 passengers and crewmen escaped from a Trans-Canada Super Constellation that crashed and burned on a farm near here Friday night. Two persons were severely burned and several others received less serious injuries.

The big airliner, bound from Tampa, Fla., to Toronto, snapped off two trees and rolled on its side as the pilot tried a belly landing in fog and rain. A wing of the four-engine aircraft was tossed 100 feet.

The 16 passengers and 7 crewmen scrambled from the wreckage moments before it burst into flames.

The accident occurred just north of this town, about 14 miles northwest of Toronto and about seven miles west of Malton Airport. The pilot had circled the airport several times trying to land.

Twelve of the injured were taken to Brampton Hospital for treatment. Eleven others were treated at Humber Memorial Hospital.

One of the passengers, Len Campbell, 17, of Burnt River, Ont., said the crash came without warning.

"It felt like the plane hit a bump. There was a terrific bang. The next thing I knew people were rolling in the aisle. Everybody scrambled for the door and ran in every direction as the plane started to burn. Nobody had any trouble getting out."

Two Michigan State College students, who explained they wanted it to decorate their dormitory room.

Jack Sullivan Loops 44 Points As Mountaineers Drub St. Peters Cagers

Jack Sullivan, Mt. St. Mary's forward, tied his own individual scoring mark of 44 points to lead the Mountaineers to a 94-78 victory over the St. Peters cagers at Jersey City, N. J., Saturday evening.

Last year Sullivan set the Mount individual scoring record of 44 tallies against Baltimore University. Against St. Peters he tickled the cords for 15 goals and 14 foul conversions in 21 tries.

Coach Jim Phelan, keenly disappointed the night before when his outfit dropped a two-point decision to a smaller Upsala team, shook up his starting lineup. He used Sal Angelo and Sullivan at forwards, Bill Williams at center, and Tom Mullen and George Donohue at guards. Williams performed particularly well and grabbed 28 rebounds.

The Mountaineers led most of the way but were held to a scant 44-38 lead at half time. However, in the second half they pulled steadily away from St. Peters.

Onderdonk landed 22 points to lead the losers' attack.

Charley O'Donnell, Mount forward, missed Saturday's game and the last half of the Upsala contest due to a live allergy.

The Mountaineers, who now sport a 6-2 record, will be idle over the Christmas holidays, resuming action against American University at Emmitsburg January 6.

FACES MURDER CHARGE; WILL WED ON FEB. 12

HARRISBURG (P)—A majority of last year's schoolboy basketball conference champions are off on good starts in the warmup phase of the 1954-55 campaign.

Seven of the top league winners have gone through the first three weeks without losing a game. Nine others have winning records and three conference kings have split even in early season exhibition starts.

Of close to two dozen major conference victors, only four have compiled losing logs so far. They are Scranton Central of the Lackawanna, Conemaugh of the West, Erie East of Dist. 10's Sect. 1 and Westinghouse of the Pittsburgh City League.

The unbeaten league titlists are Coal Twp. of the Keystone, Allentown of the East Penn, York of the Central Penn, St. Clair of the North Schuylkill, Kane of the Northern Tier, Farrell of the WPIAL's Sect. 3, the state titlist; and Johnstown of the Tri-county.

Last year at the three-week mark 10 defending winners were undefeated.

Most Start In January
The North Schuylkill, South Penn and Northern Tier have already opened league warfare but only one other circuit will get going before the first week of January.

That's the Susquehanna loop which observes its earliest opening in history tomorrow with defending champion Bloomsburg at Lewisburg.

Of the 11 Class A district champions just three, all from western Pennsylvania, have not been linked. They are Farrell (5-0) of Dist. 7, Johnstown (5-0), Dist. 6; and Kane (3-0), Dist. 9. Only Westinghouse of Dist. 8 has a losing record, however.

This week's top exhibitions include two of the district champs against unbeaten opponents. Plymouth, Dist. 2, runs into Luzerne (5-0) and Williamsport takes on Steelton (3-0) tomorrow.

Run-Down Of Records
A rundown of the best major team records so far:

Dist. 1—The best so far seems to be Yeaton (3-0) and Chester (3-4), the two teams that met for the district title last March.

Chester is the defending eastern Pennsylvania champ and Yeaton was the 1953 state winner.

Dist. 2—A trio of smaller schools hold the best marks. Ashley (5-0), Luzerne (5-0) and Swoyersville (4-0) are the leaders. Old Forge, Lackawanna league entry, has lost only once (by one point to Swoyersville) in four starts.

Dist. 3—York of the Central Penn leads the way with four straight triumphs. Steelton, also of the Central Penn, and Carlisle, a South Penn threat, have 3-0 logs.

Dist. 4—Coal Twp. of the Keystone is off to another whirlwind start, 8-0. Shamokin is unbeaten in five games.

Dist. 5—All Class A teams have been beaten at least once.

Dist. 6—Next to Johnstown, Richland Twp. of the West Central (4-0) and Ebensburg of the Tri-county (2-0) are the leaders.

Dist. 7—Homestead (6-0), Sharon (5-0), California (5-1), McKeesport (5-1) and New Castle (4-1) look like the top challengers to Farrell.

Dist. 9—Clearfield with five straight, even tops Kane's exhibition record. Dubois is unbeaten in two.

Dist. 11—Stroudsburg of the Lehigh Valley and Allentown have identical 4-0 logs but St. Clair, defending Black Diamond leader, has won six in a row.

UTES DEFEAT LA SALLE; FACE KENTUCKY NEXT

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
If there are any better outfits than Utah in the college basketball ranks at present, they better stand up and be counted.

The Utes brought a so-so 6-0 mark into Madison Square Garden Saturday night and to everyone's surprise proceeded to score a 79-69 victory over La Salle, erstwhile NCAA champion and the nation's No. 1 team in last week's Associated Press poll.

Utah showed a relaxed, confident team, well coached and unawed by the Explorers. They were in command for the greater share of the final half after trailing 41-38 at the intermission.

Off Night For La Salle
The Utes, though expertly coached by Jack Gardner, the former Kansas State mentor, were by no means a great team against La Salle. But they'll do until a better one comes along.

Admittedly, La Salle, with its standout Tom Gola netting only 19 points, might have experienced an off night. But it's doubtful that even a tip-top La Salle club could have restrained the Utes. The Utes were so superior the result can't even be termed an upset, except by way of excuse among the experts who delegated Utah to no better than the No. 15 spot in the rankings.

Whether Utah is actually as good as it looked should show up tomorrow night at Lexington, Ky., when Utah runs up against Kentucky, No. 2 in the nation, in the first round of the Kentucky Invitational Tournament.

Kentucky Unbeaten
By coincidence, La Salle is in the same get-together, opposing Southern California in the first round.

Kentucky stayed among the unbeaten last week with a 79-61 lacing of Temple, the club that upended St. John's of Brooklyn last week. It was the Wildcats' 28th consecutive victory.

Southern Cal won its fifth decision in six over the weekend, mauling New Mexico 103-39.

Duquesne, rated No. 9, smothered the Peoria Cats, NAIA champs and world amateur titlists, 82-63 in an exhibition.

PUSH DRIVE TO BOWL SUNDAY
HARRISBURG (P)—The Pennsylvania Assn. of Bowling Academies today pressed a drive for passage of legislation to legalize Sunday bowling in the state.

Robert C. Vandever, secretary and treasurer of the organization, reported 100 members of the 1955 Legislature said in a reply to a questionnaire they would favor such a bill.

Bills to legalize Sunday bowling in Pennsylvania have failed of action in recent sessions of the Legislature.

Vandever said Pennsylvania would have a chance to obtain the annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress if Sunday bowling were permitted in the state.

He said the event, running three to four months, would bring about 40,000 participants to spend 7 to 10 million dollars in the host city and state.

Vandever said Philadelphia and Pittsburgh would bid for the bowling congress for 1957 or 1958 in event of legalized Sunday bowling.

Nat Cohen, operator of a Harrisburg bowling congress, said Harrisburg could also bid for the 1957 event.

The 1955 ABC tournament will be held at Ft. Wayne, Ind., and the 1956 tournament at Rochester, N. Y.

Many To Use New Power In 2000 A.D.
WASHINGTON (P)—A private consultant says atomic energy will be providing 45 per cent of the nation's electric power by the year 2000.

H. Dewayne Kreager, executive officer of the Office of Defense Mobilization until mid-1953, surveyed the A-power possibilities in a study prepared for the use of investor groups. He said his information came from nonsecret government and private industry sources.

He predicted that atomic-powered generators will become economically competitive with coal and oil-fueled plants by 1965, and that by 1975 they will be producing between 30 and 45 million kilowatts of the 300 million that will be required by that time.

From 1975 to 2000, he forecast, 80 per cent of the new generating capacity installed will be A-powered, but that using coal and oil also will continue to grow.

Premier Pierre Mendes-France remarked on the inconsistency in a radio broadcast Saturday night.

The British-Soviet treaty, designed to run for 20 years, was signed by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in London, May 26, 1942.

Aimed At Hitler
It is a treaty of alliance, collaboration and mutual assistance aimed against "Hitlerite Germany."

The two nations pledged themselves to help rebuild Europe on the terms of the Roosevelt-Churchill Atlantic Charter, to negotiate with no German government that failed to renounce aggression, to avoid alliances directed against each other and to take "common action to preserve peace and prevent aggression in the postwar period."

Eddie Collins Jr. Gets Phillies' Job

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Edward T. Collins Jr., son of the Hall of Fame second baseman—is a new assistant general manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, devoting special attention to the farm system and scouts.

Collins' appointment was announced over the weekend by General Manager Roy Hamer, Joseph Reardon resigned recently as director of the Phillies' farm system.

Collins joined the Phillies in 1947 as assistant farm director. Prior to that, he had been in the Philadelphia Athletics' farm system, starting after his graduation from Yale University in 1939. He played with Baltimore in the International League and later with Jersey City and Buffalo, as well as a short stint with the A's.

LIONS DEFEAT BROWNS AGAIN IN DEEP SNOW

CLEVELAND (P)—Buddy Parker's Detroit Lions defeated the Cleveland Browns for the seventh time in eight tries yesterday, and after the blizzard-swept game the rival coaches said:

Paul E. Brown — "We'd have liked a victory in that one, but we didn't get it."

Parker — "I wish that were the score of next Sunday's game."

The score was 14-10, and the Lions hit the airways for the come-from-behind touchdown in the last 50 seconds after it appeared the Browns had it wrapped up.

The game, except for the prestige involved, meant nothing, since each team had already clinched its division championship. It was a makeup tilt, postponed from Oct. 3, and served as a practice swing for next Sunday's clash between the same clubs for the world championship.

Most astounding thing about the game, played in deep snow which fell for hours before and during the game, was that Cleveland's vaunted passing attack, its most dangerous weapon, gained only four yards. Otto Graham completed only one of six tries.

But Detroit's Bobby Layne connected on 18 of 37 for 183 yards and both touchdowns. The first came on a 26-yarder to end Dorn Dibble to deadlock the game at 7-7 in the third quarter. Then Layne completed six of seven tries—four to Jug Girard for 56 yards—in the eight-play, 74-yard drive which won in the final minute. The payoff was an 11-yarder to Girard.

PUTTER TROUBLE
It wasn't the best round of the tourney for Furgol (he shot a 66 for runner-up honors opening day), but it brought him up from the field for a one-stroke edge over Walt Burkemo, Franklin, Mich.

Burkemo had putter trouble on the final green and watched a six-footer go astray. It gave him a 68 and $1,400.

Al Bessellink, who had a three-stroke lead going into the final round, and Shelley Mayfield, the first-round leader with Tommy Bolt on a 65, tied for third with a 75 total.

Bob Toski, the defending champ, was tied for last.

Emmitsburg GRANGE HOLDS PARTY; WILL INSTALL JAN. 5

Friendship Night and the annual Christmas party were observed at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Grange Wednesday evening in the Emmitsburg High School, with 70 members and guests present and Master Edgar G. Emrich presiding.

The installation of newly-elected officers will be held at the next regular meeting on January 5. The affair will be a joint installation by Thurmont and Emmitsburg. A detailed report was given on the State Grange Session held at Carvel Hall in Annapolis. The local Grange was awarded two $25 bonds for placing third in the state in community service.

Mrs. George Gartrell announced a food sale will be held Saturday at the fire hall. In a recent meeting of representatives from farm organizations, it was unanimously agreed to recognize and honor the county agent, H. R. Shoemaker, for the "excellent service" he is rendering for rural people in Frederick County.

Friendship Night was observed with the Carroll Manor Grange as guests and in charge of the program. The guest lecturer, Mrs. Howard Fry, presented the following program: Piano selection, Donna Jean Compher; playlet, "The Christmas Message," starring Mrs. Willis Remsburg, Donna Jean Compher, Mary Alice and Joan Cissel and Mrs. Melvin Cook; brass quartet playing Christmas carols featuring William Krantz and Robert Fry on the trumpets, Clyde Bohn and Edward Krantz on trombones. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments served by the hostesses, Mrs. Raymond Baumgardner and Mrs. John Baumgardner. The Juvenile Grange exchanged gifts and played games before joining the adult group for the program and refreshments.

Goes To Florida

J. Ledlie Gioninger left last week for Bradenton Beach, Fla., where he will spend the winter months.

George Sprigg, Camp Hill, Pa., spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wivell.

WOMAN IS SHOT; FOUR ARE HELD

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Robert Itterly, 21, of nearby Cross Roads, and three younger youths have been arrested in the shooting of Mrs. Stella Kelm, 50, early Saturday at her home near here.

Itterly was held on charges of assault with intent to kill, aggravated assault and battery and wantonly discharging a gun. The three others, all juveniles, are being held without charge pending further investigation of the case.

Mrs. Kelm was struck in the face and chest by several pellets from a shotgun blast when she and a sister, Mrs. Alice Mills, 35, went to investigate noises at their home. Mrs. Kelm is reported in fair condition.

State Trooper Thomas Cavanaugh quoted one of the juveniles as saying that they had attended a barn dance where they drank beer. The trooper said they then apparently tried to get into several homes and were in quest of girls.

He said the two women heard noises, made by shotgun blasts, and went downstairs to investigate. While standing in a doorway, they were hit by the pellets, fired by one of the four from a car, Cavanaugh said. Mrs. Mills' injury was slight.

PUBLIC IS BACK IN STOCK MART ON BIG SCALE

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — "The public is back in the stock market" — you hear that on all sides today.

This is doubtless true, if you use the term "in the stock market" in a different sense than in 1929.

Although small investors are unquestionably patronizing a stock broker boardrooms again, looking for a fast buck, there is still a larger group of the public buying stocks for keeps — the new type of investor.

Interest Spreading
Brokers say that this time, unlike 1929, people so far are more inclined to buy for the long pull, interested in building up future income or an estate for their families. Twenty-five years ago the big idea was to buy into the market "on a hot tip" and unload on late comers for a fast profit.

Interest in stocks is spreading. But, so far, for every one who is buying some shares in American industry there are at least 10 persons who are talking about stocks and showing great interest in the course of stock prices — and, as of now, mostly taking it out in talk.

All of this applies to "the public," not to the professional stock trader. The pro is in and out of the market constantly, taking advantage of each juggle in prices, of the rumors, of the news breaks that influence psychology.

Buying on margin has increased a little in recent weeks, as the volume of stock trading has grown. But brokers say that most buying is still done on a cash basis and not on the credit shoestring as in the 1929 boom.

Margin rules now require that purchasers put up at least half of the price of the stock in cash, whereas in 1929 many traders were doing the biggest share of their plunging strictly on the cuff.

A four-million-share day now is evidence of the public's reawakening interest in the stock market. But take into consideration the much larger total of outstanding shares today compared with 26 years ago, and trading loses much of its significance.

Foundations' Spokesmen Rap Committee Criticism

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Spokesmen for several foundations have hit back with such terms as "biased" and "flimsy" at a House committee report accusing the giant tax-free groups of promoting a socialism of "far greater menace" at home than communism.

The report was issued last night over the signatures of the three Republicans on a special five-member committee headed by Rep. Reece (R-Tenn.). One of them, Rep. Goodwin of Massachusetts, dissented from many of the conclusions, including the one that the foundations promote socialism.

Representative Wayne L. Hays of Ohio and Ploof of Idaho, the two Democratic members, filed a blistering dissent attacking the 416-page report as a "crackpot" view by persons suffering from "fear sickness." They put primary blame on the committee staff.

Called "Cartel"

The report signed by the GOP big foundations as comprising an "interlock" and "an intellectual cartel" which, it declared, wields tremendous left-wing power over the nation's thought and policies.

The 12-page opinion by the Democrats declared the investigation was dominated from the start by a "theme of prejudice" against the foundations "like the theme of doom in a tragic opera."

Hays recounted in a separate news conference that the committee's 16 stormy public hearings called off by the GOP majority after only one foundation witness had taken the stand. He said he believes it might be a good idea for the new Democratic-controlled Congress to hold a short set of hearings for the foundations to present their side of the case.

"Harrasing Acts"

Reece, in a separate statement attached to the committee report, said further testimony was not taken because of Hays' "obstructive and harrasing acts" at the hearings.

Th GOP report said the foundations influence national policies through the power of the purse amplified through a host of "inter-

Sally Wood, above, formerly of Boston, was found shot to death the night of Dec. 13 amid piles of Christmas packages in a fashionable apartment in Arlington, Va. mediate" organizations, such as information clearing houses and professional societies. It said professional foundation administrators, not the big-name trustees, wield the actual power.

However, it declared foundations generally are desirable and it said particular benefits have come from foundations in medicine, public health and science.

But the tendency of foundations in the social science field, it said, is to favor "empirical" research which it declared in turn promotes "collectivism" or "socialism." And it said that while "externally, communism is the greater danger, internally, socialism offers far greater menace."

Foundation influence has also crept into foreign policy matters, the report said, declaring that in one instance more "alertness" by trustees of some foundations which provided funds for the Institute of Pacific Relations "might have saved China from the Communists and prevented the war in Korea." The institute has frequently been criticized by congressional groups.

The lengthy document ticked off a long list of names of organizations and individuals in connection with the alleged foundation-influenced "network."

Mentioned most often were the country's big three among fund groups: the Ford Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation, several Carnegie groups, and what it called "offshoots" of the big three. Among Carnegie organizations named were the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and the Carnegie Corp. of New York.

The GOP report also assailed the New York Times, the New York Herald Tribune and the Washington Post and Times Herald, which it said had connections with foundations and had criticized the investigation. The latter two newspapers said statements made in the report were not true.

H. Rowan Galtier Jr., president of the Ford Foundation, said the Reece investigation was "biased from start to finish" and that the report's authors apparently "regard as un-American every man, idea or institution with which they happen to disagree."

Rep. Goodwin said he signed his name to the report with a note that he did so "with strong reservations and dissent from many of its findings and conclusions." This note did not appear in the printed report given newsmen, and Goodwin said his name on the report was not authorized without the qualifying remark.

However, Goodwin said, he regards the document as a "majority" report and understands that a future printing will carry his separate views.

Rep. Wolcott of Michigan is the third Republican member of the committee.

CATHODE RAY TUBE FOR TV IS OUTMODDED

By WAYNE OLIVER
NEW YORK (AP) — The present method of showing television pictures on the face of a big cathode ray tube now has been outmoded in the laboratory.

The set of the future will show its picture on a screen of any size you choose that can be hung on the wall like a picture or made into a panel in the wall. It may be a few years more in reaching the practical stage for home sets, but two big companies report their laboratories have cracked through the barrier of "light amplification" that has baffled scientists for generations.

Both Radio Corp. of America and General Electric Co. say they have developed methods of amplifying light in a manner similar to that in which sound now can be amplified.

Earlier Than Expected

The viewing screen will contain phosphor crystals similar to those on the face of the viewing tube of your present TV set. But the picture will be produced by passing electrical current directly through the phosphors, instead of the present method of bombarding the phosphors with a stream of electrons from an electronic "gun" in the back end of a cathode ray tube. The principle is applicable for color TV as well as black and white.

RCA's Board Chairman David Sarnoff announced in 1951 that he had assigned to the company's staff the task of solving the problem of light amplification and several other companies were known to have been working on similar projects. However, news that they had solved the basic problem came somewhat earlier than expected.

The development by RCA was announced in Sarnoff's year-end statement while GE sent out invitations for a press demonstration tomorrow.

Disney Show Popular

GE says picture-on-the-wall TV is only one of the possible future uses of direct light amplification and that "it also may be useful in X-ray fluoroscopy, photography, and for seeing-in-the-dark devices."

The new Walt Disney show on ABC television started out with 109 stations on Oct. 27 and has added 43 for a total of 152 now. The total includes 15 stations in Canada.

Remains Of 1,500-Year-Old Church In Holy Land Attracts Visitors

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector (AP) — The remains of a 1,500-year-old Christian church, newly discovered, is attracting visitors this Christmas season.

The church was situated near the well where, legend says, Mary and Joseph rested on their trek from Jerusalem to Bethlehem.

The mosaic floor of the church and the foundations of an adjacent monastery were unearthed in the precincts of a 3,000-year-old Judean town. The finds were made on a hill close to the Israel collective settlement, Ramat Rachel. From

Church Asks Veto Of New Divorce Law

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — The Argentine Episcopalate of the Catholic Church has called on President Peron to veto the divorce law adopted Tuesday by the Peron-dominated Congress. A veto is not considered likely.

The Episcopalate, highest church body in the country, met yesterday and today to consider the law. It permits divorce in Argentina for the first time.

Linked To Wise Men

The well is mentioned in the writings of the sixth century Father Theodosius. Recounting Christian legends of his time, he relates how Joseph and Mary quenched their thirst at that well, from then on known under the Byzantine-Greek name "Kathisma"—resting place. The name recurs later also in Arabic; Arabs in the Holy Land call the place "Bir (well) Kadi-mou."

Another tradition identifies the well with a legend that the three wise men on their way to Bethlehem stopped there to drink.

Father Theodosius says that a church and monastery near the well, also named Kathisma, were donated in honor of a certain Theodosius by a Jerusalem Christian woman named Ikalla.

The church was originally 48 feet wide and 65 feet long, fairly big for that time. Nothing is known regarding the height of the building as no complete columns or side wall have remained intact.

Bedrooms Three
Closets Six
Cubage: House 29,200 ft.
Garage 3,500 ft.
Dimension 27' x 39'

Presenting a cozy, home-like exterior appearance, "The Far Hills" has a roomy interior. The attached garage and the wing containing the kitchen are set back from the main house to give an interesting variation to the straight architectural lines of "The Far Hills."

Added interest can be given to the exterior of this attractive home by using vertical strips of stained wood, as in the illustration. A scrolled, wood canopy effect can be used to good advantage over the front door.

The generous amount of windows throughout "The Far Hills" gives the house an even more spacious appearance. Plan both the site of the house and the interior decoration of the living room with the picture window ever in mind. And, of course, landscape the grounds to most effectively bring out the best features of your house.

Measurements of the main house are 27' x 39'. Cubage of the house is 29,200 feet; cubage of the garage is 3,500 feet. Don't build "The Far Hills" to near to the street or roadway. This type of house will look equally "at home" in the city, suburbs or country.

There's plenty of sleeping space in "The Far Hills" because, as you'll notice in the accompanying plan, there's a den or bedroom in addition

Judge Sitting In Two Murder Trials

CLEVELAND (AP) — Starting today, Judge Edward Blythin is serving in two murder trials at once.

One, of course, is the trial of osteopath Samuel H. Sheppard, charged with first degree murder in the bludgeon-death of his pregnant wife last July 4. Jurors in that trial try for the fourth straight day today to reach a verdict.

The other is the trial of Curtis Chaney, also charged with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of another man last Aug. 23. Curtis has waived a jury, and Judge Blythin is on the three-judge panel which starts hearing the case today.

The judge said the new trial can be recessed long enough for him to return to the other one in the event a verdict is reached.

Youth Admits He Murdered Woman

BRINKLEY, Ark. (AP) — A 19-year-old Alabama youth who has admitted he swung the club which crushed the skull of pretty Mrs. Milton Fuller is in an undisclosed Arkansas jail today, waiting to be charged with first-degree murder.

Prosecutor J. B. Reed told newsmen yesterday he would file the information against Billy Ray Willingham here today.

The youth, who left a 16-year-old wife in Alabama, said hunger drove him into the unpretentious Fuller home, and that a weird sex urge spurred him into killing the young mother.

Mrs. Fuller was found dying early Dec. 12 in her blood-spattered bedroom. She had been hit once with a four-foot stick of firewood. The blow crushed her skull. She died nearly five hours later at a hospital without regaining consciousness.

Willingham was picked up for questioning at Forrest City while loitering on the streets, and brought to Brinkley, where he said he was the killer.

OUSTED DOCTOR SEES BAD TIMES NEXT TUESDAY

CHICAGO (AP)—A jobless college doctor predicts the world will be racked with terrible trouble on Tuesday but says he never said it would be the end of the world.

Violent upheavals—in the form of disastrous life-engulfing tidal waves—will strike down man near Lake Michigan and on the eastern and western coasts, says Dr. Charles Laughead, who until Wednesday was a staff doctor at Michigan State College, East Lansing, Mich.

The doctor claims a second-hand contact with "outer space" and says communications received by friends with first-hand contact indicate catastrophic events for the world.

Demand Resignation

Among the things that might happen, he said in an interview, would be the materialization of the legendary islands of Atlantis and Mu—"the birthplace of humanity."

Fable has placed Atlantis in the Atlantic Ocean, near the Strait of Gibraltar; and Mu, in the Indian Ocean, at the site of what is now Madagascar.

These views led to Laughead's departure from MSC, in the form of a resignation which he said was demanded.

The president of the college, Dr. John A. Hannah, in Chicago for an educators conference, said the college had no objection to Laughead's beliefs but objected to the doctor's "propagandizing" students "on a peculiar set of beliefs of questionable validity" that would "effect adversely the quality of their college work."

The college president said the matter came up before the Michigan State Board of Agriculture, governing body of MSC, after a group of students informed him Laughead was holding meetings at which "peculiar beliefs" were advanced.

Laughead said he was asked to resign and said he assumed it was because of his "hobby" which is "flying saucers and other matters having to do with outer space."

The 44-year-old doctor did not

16 Rescuers Find Buried Coal Miner

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A rescue crew of 16 miners, after working steadily for three weeks, has recovered the body of coal miner Frank Pescavage, 43.

Pescavage was buried alive in a cavein Nov. 29 at a mine near St. Clair, four miles north of Pottsville.

Stanley Purcell, 34, of Frackville, was buried to the hips in the same rock and coal slide, but was pulled to safety by a third miner, John Blase, 33, also of Frackville, who summoned the rescue crew.

Pescavage was a former policeman and a councilman in Gilberton borough. He is survived by his widow and three children.

FOUND GUILTY IN DEATH PLOT AGAINST WIDOW

BARTOW, Fla. (AP)—J. Willard Durden, 36-year-old Orlando tractor, was convicted Friday night of conspiring to kill a wealthy widow in a bizarre murder-for-money scheme.

Criminal Court Judge Roy H. Amidon immediately sentenced him to a year in prison and a $500 fine, plus payment of trial costs—the maximum penalty under Florida law.

A six-man jury found Durden guilty of conspiring with the late Emmett Donnelly, a Lake Wales lawyer, to kill Mrs. Byrd T. Roach of Lake Wales.

Faces 2 Other Charges
The two men also were charged with conspiracy to kill two other persons—K. H. Gerlach of Lake Wales and Mrs. Louise Clark Hawley Sandberg of Orlando. Donnelly committed suicide shortly after he was charged in the cases in June.

Durden still faces trial in the cases involving Gerlach and Mrs. Sandberg.

Donnelly was executor for the $230,000 estate of Mrs. Roach's husband. Mrs. Roach got one-third and the remainder went into a charity trust fund to be handled by Donnelly. Prosecution witnesses said Donnelly had diverted these funds to his own use.

Taking a snowtime holiday, as many motorists discover, can be just as much fun as vacation travel in any season of the year.

Where else but in snow-blanketed mountains is it possible to go skiing, skating, tobogganing, sleigh-riding, build snow figures, and combine them with such evening fun as folk dancing or just relaxing in front of a blazing log fire? And as those who've enjoyed it readily testify, this kind of holiday is a real family affair, with everyone, including the small fry, "in on the act."

But to be practical, before heading for the high altitudes in winter, vacationists ought to prepare themselves—not only with the proper clothing and sporting gear, but with a few advance mental notes on driving cautions. Here are a few helpful hints, prepared by the American Automobile Association:

Apply Brakes Gently
Take it easy. Driving on roads covered with ice or snow requires special care, even with chains. Don't try to pass other cars on grades or near curves. Keep plenty of distance between you car and the one ahead.

Apply brakes gently on snow and ice, with a pumping action. This will avoid skidding. If your car does skid, turn the front wheels in the direction of the skid—not away from it—until you regain control of the car.

Use Parking Areas
When descending grades, use your motor as a brake by keeping the car in second or low gear, depending on the steepness of the grade. Avoid shifting on downgrades, but if necessary, bring your car to a full stop before shifting.

Check Car Carefully
Check the fuel system, electrical system, starter, shock absorbers, muffler and exhaust pipe; the wheel alignment; the safety features such as brakes, tires, lights, windshield wipers, defroster and horn.

Be sure you have tire chains. Chains are a must for mountain driving in the winter. Signs will be posted along the highway to warn you when chains are advised or required. Heed them. In heavily-traveled areas, gas station attendants usually put chains on and take them off for a nominal fee. Well worth it, too, many drivers say.

Keep one window of the car partly open to prevent fogging of the windshield surface. It is also a protection against an accumulation of deadly carbon monoxide.

In the snow country park your car only in an authorized parking area. Leaving a vehicle along the road creates traffic hazards and may hinder snow plows. When parking, do not set the brakes tight if they are wet; this increases the chance of their freezing solidly and thus becoming difficult to release.

As for your automobile, the motorist should be sure it's been "winterized" before he sets out on his snowtime holiday. Undoubtedly he'll be encountering freezing temperatures, as well as snow on the road. But yet by preparing himself and his car properly, it can be just as easy to travel above the snowline as it is at sea level. Here are a few precautions recommended by the AAA:

Don't try out without a safe anti-freeze solution in your radiator.

Have the battery checked and make sure it is fully charged. Cold weather puts added strain on the battery.

Check Car Carefully
Check the fuel system, electrical system, starter, shock absorbers, muffler and exhaust pipe; the wheel alignment; the safety features such as brakes, tires, lights, windshield wipers, defroster and horn.

Be sure you have tire chains. Chains are a must for mountain driving in the winter. Signs will be posted along the highway to warn you when chains are advised or required. Heed them. In heavily-traveled areas, gas station attendants usually put chains on and take them off for a nominal fee. Well worth it, too, many drivers say.

All this precaution takes little time and effort. And the reward is in fun and thrills, along with spectacular and subtle views to be seen and enjoyed only in the snow country.

PRETTY GIRL IS STRANGLED BY 2 SAILORS

MIDDLETOWN, R.I. (P)—Pretty Margaret Louise Blanchette, 16-year-old Sunday school teacher, was attacked and strangled in the rear seat of a moving automobile yesterday—a deed for which two sailors were held today.

Frederick B. Zimmer, 25, of Rochester, N.Y., a metalsmith I.C., was charged with murder. Seaman Clyde D. Brunfield, 18, also of Rochester, N.Y., was charged with being accessory before the fact of murder.

State Police Capt. Andrew Casey said Zimmer admitted he struck and strangled the Portsmouth, R.I. girl "when she began to scream" during the attack.

Had Attacker Dinner

Casey said the two sailors had volunteered to drive the girl home from a pre-Christmas dance at the enlisted men's club at the big naval base in Newport.

Zimmer and Brunfield were arrested after a chase by Middletown police, who were unaware that anything was amiss in the car.

Sgt. Francis Vierra and Patrolman Lewis Perry chased the car into Newport because the sailors failed to stop at their signal as they passed at high speed.

Dr. John A. Picozzi, deputy state medical examiner, said an autopsy showed the girl had been attacked and strangled manually. He said police told him her clothing was torn and disarranged and that there was other evidence she put up a struggle.

Miss Blanchette was one of 12 children of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Blanchette. The father is a mill worker in nearby Fall River, Mass.

Ten men were burned when a Gulf Oil Corp. underground storage well at Fannett, Tex., caught fire Wednesday after gas had leaked from it for several hours. The fire developed as workers sought to shut off the escaping gas. The flames are reflected in a water reservoir in the Fannett Field. (AP Wirephoto)

If the tree's needles near them turn brown. And when the needles start to fall, take the tree down and discard it.

Dispose of old trees in fire-safe areas outdoors—not in furnaces, stoves, or fireplaces—because Christmas trees burn with almost explosive violence.

In case of fire, call the fire department immediately.

Continuing our recent references to the many freak accidents that befall Americans each year, here are a few more examples:

It doesn't pay to kick a cow, either, as Leslie Ertl, a farmer of Pinckneyville, Ill., found out the hard way. A cow kicked him and he kicked the cow right back. He snapped a bone in his leg. The cow felt fine.

Sailors are supposed to see most everything at one time or another, and the crew of the Norwegian freighter Magnhild won't argue about it. They saw two of their shipmates—Lars Sele and Audun Jensen—washed overboard during an Atlantic storm, then scooped back aboard when the ship dipped deep down in a swell.

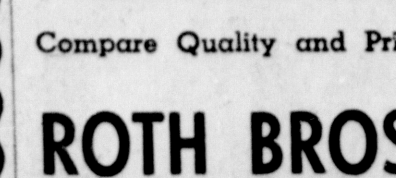

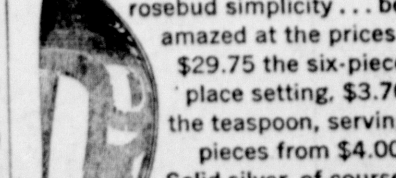

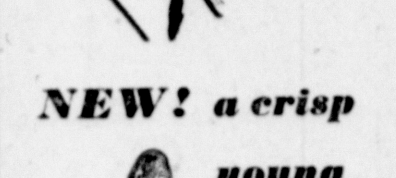

When an auto in Los Angeles tore through three intersections, crashed into another car at 50 miles an hour and then rammed into a house, police blamed it on the fact that Driver Jack Todora was too young to be behind the wheel. They also said he had taken the car without the owner's permission. But they didn't take away his license, for the reason that he didn't have one. He didn't even know he was supposed to have one. After all, Jack is only 4.

And in Washington, D. C., Mr. Bushman was accused by police of reckless behavior in traffic when he ran down Mrs. William Suite. His act was regarded as especially reprehensible because Mrs. Suite had been feeding and caring for him for three years. Mr. Bushman is Mrs. Suite's cocker spaniel. And she'll never leave him alone in the car again unless the hand brake is set good and tight.

Ray Corder, of Zanesville, Ohio, is now willing to admit that William Tell was a better marksman than he is. Corder had his nephew Eldon hold up a tomato can while the uncle blazed away to prove his skill with a .22 rifle. The nephew was treated for a gunshot wound in the thumb. The can was as good as new.

In Cincinnati 4-year-old Judy Combs devised a system for getting down stairs that not only is faster than an escalator, but more exciting. Judy rolled off a fourth-floor fire escape, fell 20 feet, landed on a network of

YOUTH FIGHTS BROKEN BACK TO PLAY FOOTBALL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A sandy-haired kid who had to "fight like the dickens" to make his high school football team in his senior year now has thousands of new friends backing his battle to play again.

Bob Chesnut pulled out the line one Saturday afternoon last October to stop an opposing back on an end run. The two boys collided. When Bob tried to get up, he couldn't. He had a broken back.

Since Oct. 23, the husky 16-year-old has been on the flat of his back in the rehabilitation center of the University of Pennsylvania Hospital. Doctors say it is too early to know what Bob can expect for the future.

"If I can ever get out of this bed, I'd like to play football again," Bob said. "This thing could have happened while I was crossing a slippery street. I don't hold it against football."

Raise $10,000 Fund
Bob's classmates out at Ridley Twp. High School in suburban Delaware County have just as much faith that he can do anything he wants. They started a fund-raising campaign to help pay for his mounting hospital bills. The drive already has brought in more than $10,000.

Last Thursday night 5,000 persons turned out at the University of Pennsylvania Palestra for a high school basketball doubleheader with the proceeds going to the Bob Chesnut Fund. Ridley Twp. youths collected $4,600 in eight hours of a door-to-door collection. "I'll probably never play football again," Bob said. "I'm not a good athlete. For heaven's sake don't write me up as a star player. I'm just a guy with no talent who likes to play."

Body Is Paralyzed

Abbottstown

ABBOTTSTOWN—Martin Estep, Cabonsburg, Pa., arrived in town to help his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grim, move to East Berlin to the Brigard home they recently purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swope, Gettysburg, are moving into the property vacated by the Grimes.

Mr. and Mrs. George Baumgardner, Midland, Texas, arrived Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Rosie Jacobs to spend the holidays.

The Sunshine Sisters Class of St. John's Lutheran Church held a Christmas party and banquet Wednesday night at the parish hall. Gifts were exchanged. They also presented their teacher, Mrs. Clinton Swope, with a very attractive and useful present.

New Oxford

Announcement has been made of the coming marriage of Joseph Staub to Miss Dawn L. Bell, McSherrystown. Banns of marriage for the couple were announced Sunday at Immaculate Conception Church.

The prospective bride couple were sponsors Sunday for Mr. Staub's nephew, Clement Joseph, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Orndorff, when he was baptized at the local Catholic church.

GIRL GETS LIMIT

CARMI, Ill. (AP)—Myrna Embree proved what's sauce for the gander is for women, too. She shot two Canadian geese to become the first woman hunter of the season to bag the limit at Horseshoe Lake.

NAMED FOR THE JOB

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Marine PFC Curtis I. Hash is living up to his name in Korea. The family of the former Savannah, Ga., youth reports he is a cook in an anti-aircraft battalion.

Bob probably won't play football again. Right now the youth can wiggle his feet and move his head from side to side. But the rest of his body is completely paralyzed. Just like Bob, his family doesn't blame football for the accident. Bob's 14-year-old brother, Lynn, played with the high school jays two days after the accident. Lynn explained it this way: "Dad talked to me and told me I didn't have to play anymore if I didn't want to. But he said the decision was up to me. I think it could have happened anywhere."

Hall Predicts Ike Will Run In 1956

OYSTER BAY, N.Y. (AP)—Leonard W. Hall, Republican national chairman, "flatly" predicts that President Eisenhower will run for reelection in 1956.

Hall, speaking Friday night before the Oyster Bay Township Republican Committee, said:

"I can tell you now that Eisenhower will be the Republican candidate for President in 1956, in my opinion."

Asked later about his statement, Hall added:

"You can say it flatly."

ROTTEN BREAK
RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—John Robert Harris Jr., was convicted of reckless driving. The principal evidence against him was the neat clipping off of a telephone pole. Harris appealed.

He said he swerved to avoid another car and his speed was less than 25 miles an hour. The pole broke, he said, because it was rotten. After examining a section of the pole, the judge smiled and acquitted Harris.

NOVELIST IS CRITICAL

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The condition of 54-year-old James Hilton, the noted novelist, was described as "very poor" today at Seaside Memorial Hospital.

Hilton, author of such novels as "Lost Horizon" and "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," entered the hospital Nov. 21. His physician has declined to disclose the nature of his illness other than to say he is suffering from an infection.

The doctor said yesterday that he is getting "progressively worse."

Electric Trolleys Quit In Scranton

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Buses ran over the Scranton Transit Co.'s Green Ridge suburban line today, marking the passing of an era.

On Saturday night electric trolleys ceased to operate in Scranton, where they started in 1886. Scranton, one of the first cities in the nation to boast electric-operated trolleys, was dubbed "the electric city" as a result.

The last run was made just before midnight. Many dignitaries and officials of historical organizations attended ceremonies in honor of the last street car run.

SOLID TAXES
GIBRALTAR, Mich. (AP)—This little community stands solid as its namesake rock these days after villagers voted for incorporation.

The move was designed to reap some $135,000 in village taxes yearly from a steel company, which is building a $12 million plant within the town limits. Without a charter, the village would not be eligible to collect the taxes.

State Commission Rejects Big Mine Drainage Tunnel

HARRISBURG (AP)—A state commission today rejected as uneconomical and dangerous a federal proposal for construction of a 400 million dollar mine drainage tunnel in the anthracite region.

"It is the recommendation of this commission that no further consideration be given the tunnel project or the suggested central pumping plants," said a report to Gov. John S. Fine.

The Pennsylvania Anthracite Mine Drainage Study Commission made its position known in a second preliminary report.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines recently completed an engineering survey which suggested digging a tunnel extending 137 miles from Olyphant, near Scranton, down through Pennsylvania and draining into Chesapeake Bay below Conowingo Dam in Maryland.

Flow By Gravity
Under such a tunnel plan, lateral tunnels would be dug directly to main coal producing areas. Individual mine companies would connect their underground operations to them. In that way much of the water that would have to be pumped to the surface would actually flow away by gravity.

Federal authorities planned to ask Congress for 400 million dollars to get the Conowingo tunnel project under way.

The Mine Drainage Study Commission, headed by Mines Secretary W. J. Clements, said federal acceptance of its report of last April would be a better way of handling the water problem which has so sharply boosted hard coal production costs.

The original report asked for a congressional appropriation of 17 million dollars for a program to (1) backfill stripings; (2) divert surface water by building ditches and flumes; and (3) install pumps at strategic locations.

Prefer Other Work
It listed this program as preferable to the Conowingo tunnel and said work on these projects should be "initiated at the earliest possible date."

The commission listed these objections to the Conowingo tunnel: 1. Borrowing 400 million dollars at 3 per cent interest would cost 12 million dollars a year compared to present pumping costs of about 8½ millions.

2. There would be danger of lowering the water table under valuable farmland when driving the tunnel through limestone terrain between Middleport, Schuylkill County, and Conowingo, Md.

3. Special land condemnation legislation would have to be enacted in Maryland and Pennsylvania to obtain rights-of-way for shaft locations and rock disposal.

4. High standby costs for power at pumping stations—as much as $41,000 a month at Middleport and $22,500 a month at Glen Lyon.

Jeopardizes Water Supply
5. Communities served in their water supply by streams flowing from the anthracite region would possibly see their water supply "seriously jeopardized" during low water periods.

6. Possible damage to aquatic and wild life (such as to oyster beds in Chesapeake Bay) by water flowing from the tunnel.

The commission noted that it would take from 5 to 10 years to build the Conowingo tunnel and the commented:

"The anthracite industry is faced at present with a very serious water situation and requires immediate assistance to meet it."

In its first report the commission pointed up the problem by disclosing it now requires the pumping of 48 tons of water for every ton of coal mined compared to 14.4 tons of water in 1944 and 27.1 tons as recently as 1951.

As its final objection, the commission said the anthracite industry is suffering "the most severe and serious economic depression" in its history, adding:

"Therefore, in its present condition, or in the foreseeable future could not participate financially in construction of the necessary tributary tunnels feeding the main tunnel project."

Next time you make French toast, try adding a little vanilla to the egg-milk mixture into which they are dipped. Serve with powdered sugar.

WILL SALVAGE AIRPLANE FROM JAMAICA BAY

NEW YORK (AP) — Salvage crews planned today to raise the wreckage of an Italian airliner that crashed into Jamaica Bay at the end of a Rome-New York flight Saturday.

Twenty-six persons died. Six others survived.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, which has been checking the crash near Idlewild Airport, scheduled closed preliminary hearings today.

Wreckage of the four-engine DC6B airliner was located yesterday by Navy divers, who reported it appeared to be in three main pieces.

They said the fuselage, in which 17 bodies are believed trapped, seemed to be intact but had flipped over, with its nose pointing out into the bay.

Recover Nine Bodies

Bodies of nine crash victims already have been recovered. The last, found yesterday, was that of 12-year-old Rosalia d'Ugo, daughter of Mrs. Natali d'Ugo, Chicago.

One of the crash survivors said Rosalia had managed to get clear of the wrecked plane and he had seen her struggling in the water.

Investigators said the plane apparently struck the end of a 2,000-foot pier with its tail as it approached the airport. Officials said the pilot, Capt. Guglielmo Algarotti, 52, who had missed three earlier radar-guided approaches to the field, was warned he was coming too low.

A veteran transatlantic flier, he was among the victims.

In Rome, the Italian government named a commission of its own to investigate the crash and Italian Defense Minister Paolo Emilio Taviani termed the crash "a grave blow" to Italian civil aviation.

The plant will produce controls and other instruments such as re-

Says Democrats Can Win On Record In '56

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today Democrats can defeat President Eisenhower in 1956 if they write a "responsible record" on domestic issues in the 84th Congress.

Sparkman, the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, said in an interview he expects that Democratic cooperation with the President on foreign policy and national defense will largely eliminate them as campaign issues.

U.S. TRYING TO SAVE STRENGTH FOR FUTURE USE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many an old man, tossed out on the street because he couldn't pay his rent, has spent the rest of his days reflecting mournfully on his folly with money in his early years.

Looking for dividends to keep him in his old age, he had invested his money long ago. Wisely, he thought. He learned too late his judgment was bad. He had put too much into one stock, not enough in another.

This country is still young, as nations go, with a lot of money. The Eisenhower administration, present custodian of it, is trying to avoid for the American future the fate which overtook the old man.

It is trying to economize to save money and at the same time invest where it thinks there will be dividends in the long run. Both the saving and the investment are a guess and a risk.

This dilemma is illustrated in the decisions the administration is trying to make on military manpower and foreign aid, particularly

Radio Station To Use Carrier Pigeons

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Radio station WWBG goes on the air today—with news delivered by carrier pigeon.

A dispute with the Northern Ohio Telephone Co. left Howard R. Ward, head of the newly constructed station, temporarily without lines to bring in Associated Press service. Ward's FCC construction permit says he has to be on the air by tomorrow.

So he arranged to have his AP teletype machines installed in a department store at Toledo, some 20 air miles distant, and got the loan of about 30 pigeons from the American Homing and Racing Pigeon Union.

ly aid for Asia.

The administration apparently doesn't think war is likely, at least soon. President Eisenhower himself talks of the cold war lasting 50 years. Throughout that time the United States must be strong enough to deter aggression.

Unbalanced Budget

How can it be done? The government could try to maintain a huge military force, but the budget couldn't be balanced, and if no war came the money spent would be, perhaps, money wasted. The government could economize by putting more reliance on strategic bombers which can carry atomic weapons and reducing the size of the land forces while building up the reserves in case of emergency.

That involves a risk since in an emergency this country might not be able to mobilize fast enough. It's a risk the administration seems willing to take for the sake of economy over the long pull.

In Asia the Communists have had major success. They may try further military force or internal subversion.

Meanwhile, they are using the other means at hand: propaganda, political maneuvering, infiltration, and, where they think it worth-while, economic aid.

If the United States refuses to give economic help to Asia, that would leave the field to the Communists. The administration, again for the sake of economy, is trying to decide how little aid it can get by with successfully.

DATE NOT SET FOR CHINA TRIP BY U.N. OFFICIAL

By GUSTAV SVENSSON
STOCKHOLM, Sweden (P)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld announced last night after a meeting with Communist China's ambassador to Sweden that he still plans to leave for Peking some time after Dec. 26, but the exact date has not been set.

As Hammarskjöld conferred at a luncheon with the envoy, Gen. Keng Piao, Peking radio broadcast further legal arguments against the release of the 11 U.S. fliers China is holding as spies. The radio quoted a brief by a Chinese judge that the Korean armistice applied only to the North Koreans and the Chinese "volunteers" in Korea, not to the Chinese peasants and police the broadcast said had captured the airmen.

On Practical Matters
An official announcement from Hammarskjöld said his 24-hour discussion with Keng was on practical matters concerning his mission to China. The secretary general will seek the release of the American airmen and all other U.N. personnel still held by the Chinese since the Korean War.

said all details of Hammarskjöld's China trip would be announced as soon as they have been settled.

He said no further meetings were planned with the Chinese before the secretary general's return to New York tomorrow.

Legal Opinion
The Peking broadcast yesterday quoted Mei Ju-ao, a Chinese justice at the Japanese war crimes trials after World War II, as saying the case of the American fliers had nothing to do with the Korean armistice because the truce applied to the Communist side only to prisoners captured by the North Koreans and Chinese "volunteers."

This fitted in with China's contention that she officially was not involved in the Korean War.

The radio declared the fliers "were captured by Chinese peasants within Chinese territory west of Antung in Liaoning province (Manchuria)." The United States maintains they were downed in North Korea and taken to China after their capture.

Want to try your hand at baking French eclairs? Use a standard recipe for cream puffs and drop the batter by spoonfuls onto a baking sheet. Then with a small knife or spatula, shape the batter into oblongs that are about four inches long and one inch wide. Make sure the eclairs are at least two inches apart from each other to allow for expansion during baking.

DULLES HOME FROM SESSIONS OF NATO IN PARIS

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of State Dulles arrived back in Washington today from the North Atlantic Treaty Council meeting in Paris, which he said has made "very important decisions unanimously and in good spirit."

With Dulles aboard a Military Air Transport Service Constellation was Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Foreign Aid

Chief Harold Stassen. Dulles was met by State Department aides, officials of several embassies and a group of newsmen.

The plane landed at MATS Terminal at 8:55 a.m.

Dulles, in an off-the-cuff statement, said he was glad he had had the opportunity in Paris to talk with British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Mendes-France.

"Exchange Views"
"That enabled us to exchange views on a good many matters," Dulles said.

"We did not try to make any decision, but it brought our thinking in line and was very useful."

Dulles called the North Atlantic Treaty Council session a "good meeting" and added:

"We reached some very important decisions unanimously and in good spirit."

The secretary said he would discuss the NATO meeting in more detail at a news conference tomorrow. He said he also would report to President Eisenhower.

Undersecretary Herbert Hoover Jr., who has been acting as secretary of state in Dulles' absence, was first to greet his boss. Among embassy officials on hand were British Ambassador Sir Roger Makin, Italian Ambassador Alberto Tachiani and Contran de Juniac of the French Embassy.

TIDEWATER FISH COMMISSION TO PROBE SHOOTING

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (P)—The latest flareup between gun-slinging Maryland conservation officials and Virginia oystermen will be reviewed by the Tidewater Fisheries Commission here tomorrow.

Robert L. Shores, chief inspector of the agency, said an oral report was given to the commission a few hours after the shooting incident yesterday but tomorrow's inquiry will be a full-dress affair.

One man was reported injured slightly in the gunplay which climaxed a two-hour chase involving a Maryland fisheries patrol plane and a 35-foot Virginia oyster boat.

Disagree on Shooting
Robert Edward Whipp, Maryland fisheries inspector and pilot of the plane, said after the incident both sides had exchange fire.

The Virginians involved said the only shooting was done by the pursuers.

Whipp said the shooting came after he, accompanied by Chief Inspector William Ryland of the Virginia Commission of Fisheries, spotted a fleet of Virginia boats illegally dredging in the river. The numbers on some of the boats were covered in violation of the law, said Whipp.

Whipp said shots were fired by both sides as the pursuing plane approached the shore at Chatham Village, Va. He said there were 40 or 50 Virginians on the shore and a shotgun and two rifles could be seen.
